September 2026 | www.rtechgroup.co.in

September at R-Tech Group was a month of quiet acceleration. As the festive season drew closer, our properties prepared for their busiest quarter — new stores completed their fit-outs and opened to customers, structural work at our under-construction sites climbed steadily higher, and Ganesh Chaturthi brought devotion and celebration into our spaces. Behind every shutter that lifted this month stands a simple belief: build well, and the city will make it its own.

If August was about celebration, September was about preparation. With Diwali's retail season on the horizon, the month carried a sense of purpose across every R-Tech property — leasing teams closing conversations, fit-out crews working to launch deadlines, and facility teams readying our malls and highstreets for the heaviest footfall of the year. Readiness, we believe, is a discipline; and September was ours on full display.

The news

September set the stage for the festive quarter. Ganesh Chaturthi celebrations across our properties saw warm participation from tenants, teams, and visitors — a devotional start to Rajasthan's biggest commercial season. On the leasing front, enquiry levels rose steadily as brands moved to secure space ahead of Diwali, fit-outs completed across Jaipur and Bhiwadi, and the office segment continued its strong run at Capital Highstreet Bhiwadi and R-Tech Emporio.

Our Vision

A development is finished only when the city starts living in it. That conviction shaped our September — every fit-out completed, every floor cast, every celebration hosted moved us closer to spaces that serve Rajasthan not just commercially, but culturally. As the lights of the festive season begin to glow, R-Tech Group's promise stays constant: destinations built with discipline, run with care, and shared with the communities we serve.

Events this month

Events

September began on a devotional note as Ganesh Chaturthi was celebrated across our properties with beautifully decorated installations and enthusiastic tenant participation. Aarti gatherings and festive décor brought teams, retailers, and visitors together in shared celebration. The spirit of the month set the perfect prelude to the Navratri–Diwali season ahead.

Admin Talks

Mr. Rajesh Yadav

Managing Director

September was about positioning — getting every property, every team, and every partnership ready for the quarter that defines retail in India. Our construction sites kept their schedules, our leasing desks kept their momentum, and our properties kept their promise to the cities they serve. The festive season ahead is not just an opportunity; it is what we have been building toward all year.

Mr. Achal Agarwal

Executive Director

On site, September rewarded consistency. Bhilwara's structure rose on schedule, fit-outs across Jaipur and Bhiwadi crossed the finish line, and handover checklists turned into opening days. Pre-festive months test execution more than any other — materials, manpower, and timelines all tighten — and our site teams held every deadline that mattered.

Kritika Yadav

VP-Admin & Operations

Festive readiness is built in September, not October. From Ganesh Chaturthi arrangements to deep-cleaning drives, security planning, and power-backup checks ahead of peak footfall, our operations teams spent the month preparing our properties to welcome their biggest crowds of the year. When the season arrives, we intend to be ready before it is.
